ACCESS TO JUSTICE & VICTIMS PARTICIPATION

For female survivors, in particular GBV victims, criminal justice is essential to deal with the past. For the Cambodian society and the international community, criminal justice is equivalent to the end of impunity which has prevailed in cases of GBV over centuries. VSS and TPO are running a series of activities to support female survivors and GBV victims in their quest for justice at the ECCC including:

Civil Party Forum Case 002 at Preah Sihanouk Province

- » Facilitating female Civil Parties' travel to the court to enable them to follow the trial directly
- » Conducting regular Civil Party workshops and national forum to provide legal up-date and psychological support to a group of GBV survivors among the Civil Parties.

AWARENESS RAISING/ADVOCACY

In order to raise awareness about gender and increase support to the victims from youth, communities, government officials, and NGOs, the VSS has done the following activities:

A Civil Party at a radio live show programme "Women in the Khmer Rouge Regime"

- » Radio live show programme "Women in the Khmer Rouge Regime", broadcast monthly on FM 102, look at various aspects of women's experiences in conflict, including GBV, psychosocial consequences, and participation at the ECCC.
- » The website www.gbvkr.org is created to document the impact of the entire project. Facebook: Gender-based Violence under the Khmer Rouge is also created so that information can be widely disseminated to young generation.
- » Meeting with relevant government institutions to seek support for victims of gender-based violence during the Khmer Rouge and solutions to the present impacts

- » Participating in the 16 Day Campaign to End Violence against Women and the International Women's Day
- » Meetings with Ending Violence against Women Legal Aid Network provide a platform to exchange experience, discuss and find solutions for gender-based violence that happened in the past and the present.

PSYCHOLOGICAL INTERVENTIONS

Many GBV survivors suffer from mental health problems that hinder them from fully engaging in social, political and professional field. Psychosocial support is an indispensable element when supporting GBV survivors. TPO has developed a series of new and innovative interventions to respond to the needs of Khmer Rouge survivors and the Cambodian context.
